STANDARDS OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

On April 20, 1978, over 130 psychologists attended the workshop to discuss the proposed Standards of Practice. In May, the Board met to consider the many useful suggestions made by the participants and by those who sent their comments in by mail.

In view of the attitudes expressed at the workshop on the subject of advertising and announcements, and the position taken by both provincial and federal governments regarding advertising in the professions generally, the Board decided to defer adopting the Sections on advertising and announcements until major revisions could be made. It was agreed that in the interest of informing the public, greater latitude in announcing the services should be permitted. Although the general principle of avoiding misrepresentation or misleading the public will be retained, the Board decided to reconsider the specific interpretations under Principle IV and in Appendix B.

Only minor revisions were made in the other sections and most were clarifications rather than substantive changes. Until a final printed version of the Standards is available for distribution it would be advisable to note the following changes (insertions are indicated in UPPER CASE lettering, deletions have a line drawn through them):

PRINCIPLE I

Interpretation 2. Where a psychological service unit includes non-psychologists as employees, trainees or members there must be clear assumption of professional authority, responsibility and ACCOUNTABILITY AS WELL AS supervision by a psychologist WHO MUST BE CLEARLY IDENTIFIED TO THE CLIENT(S) AS OCCUPYING THIS ROLE.

EXPIRED REGISTRATIONS

Those psychologists who have not as yet renewed their registration for the coming year, and still wish to do so, should forward their reinstatement fee to the Board Office as soon as possible. The next issue of the Bulletin will list the names of those who have been removed from the Register due to non-payment of fees.

It is important that the Board Office be informed of any changes of address. Renewal notices are sent to everyone in April each year. Many were returned because psychologists had moved without notifying the Board of their change of address. Included in the Directory of Psychologists, which is also mailed to all psychologists at the beginning of each year, is a copy of the Act, stating Section 6 of Regulations 698, which specifies that each certificate of registration expires with the 31st day of May each year unless it is renewed. The notices are sent as a courtesy and are not in the nature of an "invoice". The Board is obliged, by virtue of Section 7 of Regulation 698, to charge a reinstatement fee of $150.00 to all persons who have not renewed their registration by May 31st of each year, and the Board Office staff has no authority to exercise discretion on enforcing any part of the Regulations.

Interpretation 8. A psychologist shall not enter any agreement WITH ANOTHER PSYCHOLOGIST OR PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICE UNIT, including a lease of premises, pursuant to which the amount payable by or to a psychologist or other member of a psychological service unit, directly or indirectly, is related to the amount of fees charged by the psychological service unit or by any person licensed or registered under any Act regulating a health discipline.

PRINCIPLE V

Interpretation 1. A psychologist shall seek an agreement with a user as early as possible in the relationship as to the GENERAL nature and extent of the services to be rendered.

Interpretation 2. A psychologist shall not claim the utility of a test, device or procedure other than that which can be supported AS GENERALLY ACCEPTED professional opinion.

PRINCIPLE VI

Interpretation 9. A psychologist must not REQUIRE the use of a credit card in payment for services.

PRINCIPLE VII Psychological service units shall maintain and protect records so that THE PRIVACY OF THE client is assured.

Interpretation 3. A psychologist shall make available client information or records, as defined in Appendix C, only to those within the psychological service unit and to those PROFESSIONALS within a sponsoring institution who have a need to know in order to serve the client.

Interpretation 4. Subject to interpretation 3 above, a psychologist shall not release the name of a client or information regarding a client, or records as defined in Appendix C except with the INFORMED written consent of the client or legal representative or guardian of the client except as directed by law.

ENFORCEMENT

Louis Romberg, a Toronto practitioner treating obesity, smoking, alcoholism, theft tendencies and certain phobias through behaviour modification by the use of subliminal stimuli, was fined $100 in Provincial Court on June 7, 1978 for holding himself out to be a psychologist, thus violating Section 11(2) of The Psychologists Registration Act, R.S.O. 1970, Chapter 372.

ANNUAL SURVEY OF PSYCHOLOGISTS

Some preliminary information is available from the questionnaires returned this year from approximately 88 percent, or 832, of the psychologists registered in Ontario. It is interesting to note that, of those answering the question, 12.2 percent are able to provide psychological services in French and 12.5 percent in other languages.

PRIVATE PRACTICE BY GRADUATE STUDENTS

The Board of Examiners has received a number of complaints regarding the psychological services of non-psychologists who, it has learned, are enrolled as graduate students in Ontario universities. Due to the reluctance of witnesses to testify for personal reasons or the care taken by students to avoid representing themselves as psychologists, these cases are difficult, if not impossible, to prosecute.

The Board is grateful to learn therefore that, in its forthcoming calendar, the School of Psychology of the University of Ottawa intends to publish the following policy statement:

In accordance with the policy of the Ontario Board of Examiners in Psychology, students are not permitted to engage in the independent practice of Psychology for the duration of their academic residence. Violation of this rule leaves the student subject to dismissal from the School of Psychology. Further, the student may in some instances be liable for prosecution under the Psychologists Registration Act of Ontario.

In the interest of protecting the public from unqualified practitioners who are not accountable to any professional body for the quality of their services, the Board would welcome similar statements from departments of psychology in other universities.
